FORWARD

In the student life of a Loyolan, three basic elements are evident — the religious, the academic, and the extra-curricular. Through the guidance extended by the faculty, the leadership displayed by the Senior class, the friendship shown in activities, the competition exemplified in athletics, and through the cooperation characteristic of the underclassmen, these three elements of student life are developed and perfected.

DEDICATION

This year's graduating class is the fifty-first and Charter Senior Class of Loyola—the first from the new Academy.
In recognition of the fine spirit and initiative which has exemplified this Charter Class, and every senior class since our founding fifty-one years ago, this yearbook is fittingly dedicated.

FACULTY

Through the guidance extended
by the Faculty,
the students are directed toward their goals in life.

Very Reverend
Michael English, S.J.
President

The nineteen hundred and sixty-one YEAR is rightly dedicated to the Senior Class, the first Loyolans to be graduated from the new Academy in Wilmette. All the world is aware that our graduates are moving closer to adult responsibilities at an eventful time in human history.

Decisions made by Americans in the months and years ahead will have effects on human happiness and liberty in far continents. Like other Loyolans who have gone forth to make a worthy contribution to the professions, to business, and to civic betterment, it is our prayer and hope that this Charter Class will embrace a full share of responsibility for country and humanity.

The future role you are to play will demand of you virtue, scholarship, resourcefulness. These qualities we have striven to impart at the Academy.

Class of 1961 — we salute you proudly and bid you fond farewell!

RELIGION

There is an acute need for fine, Catholic leaders in our modern world. Realizing this, the Loyola man takes full advantage of his school's systematic and well-balanced course in Religion. From apologetics to Christian antiquities, from logic to ethics, the student receives a greater understanding and fuller appreciation of his Catholic faith and heritage. He can be seen practicing his religion at daily Mass and Communion, and at First Friday Devotions. Thus he is prepared, both in mind and in soul, to be a strong, Catholic leader and Soldier of Jesus Christ.

Today's student lives in a technological age — an age in which government and industry cry out for men well trained in mathematics and science. Loyola realizes this new demand and meets it — supplementing its regular curriculum by offering an extra course in biology, by forming a concentrated study in formulae and equations for advanced chemistry students, by initiating a college-level mathematics class, and by expanding its physical science facilities. And the student, by assimulating the knowledge of congruent triangles, the composition of matter, trigonometric functions, and thermodynamics, leaves Loyola Academy well-prepared in the elemental stages of atomic knowledge.

LANGUAGES

Languages hold a preeminent position in the curriculum at Loyola Academy. With one-half of the faculty engaged in the teaching of languages, every student takes English, seventy per cent study Latin or Greek, fourty per cent learn French or Spanish. And why this emphasis? Because from languages a student learns a mental discipline, an art of communication, and an ability to appreciate the thoughts of another as originally expressed. Linguistics give us a necessary preparation for the world we build tomorrow.

HISTORY

History is the story of man and his environment. At Loyola the history department attempts to instill in the students an ability to live in the present and face the future through a thorough understanding and study of the past. From the time of our Biblical beginnings, up through the Hellenistic culture of Greece, to the birth of Christ, and then along through Medieval times up to our own modern age, the student analyzes the successes and failures of former generations, so that he may use this knowledge to plot future courses of action.

ACTIVITIES

Through the friendship shown in activities, the student is able to open new worlds for himself.

Crepe-hangers George Sullivan and Dick Brennan prepare for the pre-Lenten Bal Masque.

Prefect E. Morrissey presides as Sodalists finish a business meeting.

Sodalists leave for the Retreat House for a few days with God.

SODALITY

The Sodality of Our Lady, one of Loyola's most popular and active spiritual organizations, is more than just another extra-curricular undertaking. It is, in truth, a way of life, for in fulfilling their two-fold purpose — sanctification of themselves and sanctification of others — the Sodalists follow a demanding religious program of daily Mass and Communion, the Rosary, and an exercise in mental prayer. In addition, they sponsor the Loyola Movie Forum, the Bal Masque, the canned-food collection, and the clothing drive. For Loyolans, the Sodality becomes a way of Life—Christ's life.

MEN OF THE SACRED HEART

A closer following of Christ and the spreading of the spirit of the Apostleship of Prayer—these are the goals of the Men of the Sacred Heart. With devotion to the Sacred Heart of Our Lord as its primary motivating force, this group of zealous Loyolans has striven, both by apostolic activity and compelling good example, to convey the message of "Go and do likewise."

Sophomore Men of the Sacred Heart:

TORCH CLUB

"The object of the club shall be to promote school spirit . . . by . . . cooperation."

This is the Torch Club: unique, cooperative, honorary, and at-your-service. Men enter its lists for exhibiting unusual spirit, for excellence on the playing field, and for proving themselves energetic and loyal Loyolans. With its charter-spirit still vibrant, with its self-sacrificing energies still inspiring its members, the Torch Club continues to serve Loyola. This year again it has "promoted school spirit by cooperation" as it provided scores of selfless workers for the time—and energy—consuming needs of the Academy.

Planning a work schedule for the Torch Club are Mr. Crowley, S.J., Moderator, and Paul Stepan, President.

Tulip Trot Committee
Dick Devine, Mike Hogan, Bob O'Neill, John Oelerich, in the first row, and Bob Thornton, Tom Tiernan, Tom Schwaba, and Paul Stepan, behind, discuss dance plans with Mr. Crowley, S.J.

Usher Tom Tiernan helps keep the crowd off the gym floor during half-time.

Ticket-taker Bob O'Neill works on another Torch Club assignment before the Weber game.

GAVEL AND ROSTRUM

A key aim of Jesuit education is the development of Catholic men who are able to think logically and speak clearly while facing an audience. With this end in view, freshmen and sophomore members of the Gavel strive to develop their speaking talents through numerous practice debates and speech tournaments. For juniors and seniors the Rostrum offers opportunities for further advancement in the techniques of public speaking through forensic tourneys that bring experience and polish to their ever-improving oral talents. Debating, through its overall training and development, is more than a merely wholesome and stimulating activity; it is in its own way, a fuller preparation for life.

Drama Club officers Mike Scott, Jim Fletcher, John Wilhelm, and Bill Fahrenbach pause to plan for the future with F. Keleher, S.J.

DRAMA CLUB

"Excellent!" This word was heard most frequently in praise of Loyola Drama Club's current Broadway efforts. Mr. Walter Bamberger engineered the November production, "Sunrise at Campobello," for the Chicago Drama Festival, while his star, Dick Larkin, copped a Festival Bronze Medal. Later in the year the occidentals went oriental to produce "Teahouse of the August Moon." While "west-of-Edens" dramatists went East they put the finishing touches on a year that brought hard work and enjoyment to moderator, cast, and crew.

Several Drama Clubbers skim over scripts for the "Teahouse of the August Moon" tryouts.

Mike Scott helps Morris McGuire to light up the stage before the curtain call.

SCIENCE CLUBS

Whether it be the mystery of the tiny transistor or the wonder of the majestic Milky Way, science challenges all of us. The world of science is parceled out to three extra-curricular groups at Loyola. Mr. Kenneth Judy's Astronomy Clubbers aim for the stars; Mr. John Heim's group beams into the airways over their own station, W9CXZ; and Mr. Gerald Cavanagh's Science Club stays at group level exploring physics outside of class hours. Science, vitally important today, finds an after-school atmosphere at Loyola that is both informal and informative.

Tom Kozlowski and Bob Maurer help Mr. Judy get set for a night of stargazing.

PREP

From reams of copy paper, rolls of typewriter ribbon, and hours of hard work comes Loyola's tri-weekly student newspaper, the PREP. Following the standards of excellence set by successful editors in the past, the 1960-61 editors of the PREP, under the direction of Mr. Paul Burke, S.J., moderator, have maintained a noteworthy level of journalistic achievement characterized by vigorous writing, newsworthy pictures, and all-around high calibre campus coverage.

CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club aids Loyola through development of photographic talent. Under the supervision of Mr. Edmund TePas, S.J., new members learned the secrets of the dark room, while old members fired flashbulbs around the halls by the carload. From plus-X to superchrome, the local cameramen have waded through miles of film, supplying Loyola's publications with a picture history of this year's events.

Year Photographers: Vic Janulaitis, Tom Urban, Tom Lennon, John Maroney, and Jack Schriver look over some proofs with Bill Klinge.

YEAR Staff:
Co-Editors John Wilhelm and Bill Fahrenbach, Bill Sullivan, Bob Walsh, Mr. Brady, S.J., Tom Liske, Bill Klinge, Tom Urban, Bob Tarjan.

THE LOYOLA YEAR

Copy and art staff of the YEAR:
Tom O'Boyle, Gene Sisco, Morris McGuire, Bernd Metz, Ralph Packard, and Jim Runkle.

As one graduation class gives way to another, the record of its accomplishments may be found in Loyola's annual, the YEAR. This year the credit of editorship belongs to Bill Fahrenbach and John Wilhelm, who were advised by Mr. James Brady, S.J.

But what can editors do without salesmen? Publicity and sales were promoted energetically by the business staff, spirited by Mike Hogan and Mr. Michael Lavelle, S.J.

Yet neither business nor editorial staffs could show anything for their efforts if it weren't for the cooperation, energy and activity of Loyola's student body. This group amply provided material for the '61 YEAR.

YEAR copyists:
Joe O'Connor, Bob Riedy, Bob Dixon, and Bob Fletcher.

The YEAR'S assistant editors:
Bob Radcliff, Jim Fletcher, and Tim Griffin.

Business Staff:
Sitting: Mike Hogan, Mr. Lavelle, S.J., Bob Besse, and Pat Kealy.
Standing: Don Potter, Tim O'Shaughnessy, John Oelerich, Joe Martens, Tom Schwaba, Ralph Nottoli.

President's Dinner
Mrs. Leslie O'Bryan, Co-Chairman; Mrs. Alfred C. Stepan, Jr., Committee Chairman; Mrs. George Rassas, President of the Mothers' Club.

MOTHERS' CLUB AND FATHERS' CLUB

Throughout the year members of both the Mothers' Club and the Fathers' Club worked energetically for their sons at Loyola. Diversified activities promoted by both clubs filled the months of the school year. From the Mothers' sponsoring of a card party or a day of recollection, to the Fathers' planning a career night for seniors or a weekend retreat for fathers, they have given eloquent testimony of their interest in their sons. Under the competent leadership of Mrs. George Rassas and Mr. John O'Keefe, members of each club have achieved the goal of aiding their sons' education, assisting the Academy, and creating a firmer parent-son-teacher relationship.

Mothers' Club:
Seated: Mrs. Robert A. Hofherr, Mrs. George J. Rassas, President; Mrs. Louis C. Metzger, Mrs. John V. Lucas, Fr. Reinke, S.J., Mrs. Frederick W. Thompson, Mrs. Frank J. Hogan, Mrs. John A. Breen.

Fathers' Club:

LOYOLA 22
HOLY TRINITY 6

On Sunday, September 11, the Ramblers made a very impressive debut under their new coach, Mr. Leonard Jardine, as they over-powered Holy Trinity by a 22-6 score. In the first period Paul Stepan, hard-running senior halfback, opened the scoring with a plunge from the two-yard line. Co-captain Dick Devine added a TD and a double PAT to make the score 14-0 at half-time. After HT's lone tally, Bob Biersach and Nick Rassas led the way to LA's final touchdown, with Rassas hitting pay dirt and Devine adding the extra points.

Led by Co-capt. Devine, the Ramblers charge onto the field for their first game of the season.

LOYOLA 38
DePAUL 0

The DePaul Demons proved to be no match for a speedy and spirited Loyola grid machine as Dick Devine scored in the first quarter and Paul Stepan in the second to get the rout under way. In the second half Nick Rassas sprinted 85 yards for one tally, Sophomore Jeff Markey added another on a 57 yard return of a pass interception, and Bob Biersach racked up the last score on a 30 yard jaunt. Bob Barrett and Denny Murphy anchored the stalwart and stingy LA defense, as the Ramblers registered their most lop-sided win of the season.

LOYOLA 14
WEBER 8

A hard-hitting line and an excellent pass defense were the key factors in Loyola's third consecutive win over the rugged Red Horde from Weber. Alert Tim O'Shaughnessy fell on a Weber fumble in the end zone for LA's first score in the second quarter. In the third period Weber stopped the Ramblers on the 20, took possession, and then drove 80 yards for a tally. Nick Rassas iced the game for LA as he returned a pass interception all the way. Time ran out on Weber as Loyola stopped the Indians' last ditch rally on the one-yard line.

FENWICK 22

The season's top attendance watched as the Ramblers sought in vain to break the "Fenwick Jinx" and prove which Jardine was the "League's Best Coach". Although LA broke the scoring ice with a touchdown by Nick Rassas in the second period for a short-lived lead, the fearful Friars came right back with a TD and a double PAT to take an 8-6 half-time advantage. After subduing several potential Rambler threats, the Oak Parkers racked up scores in the third and fourth quarters to spoil the day for the men of LA. But Loyolans still had firm convictions about who was the "Best Coach."

LOYOLA 6
ST. PAT'S 14

Shamrocks bloomed in Sachs Stadium as the green-clad gridders of St. Patrick's snapped the winning streak of the injury-riddled Ramblers by a 14-6 score. Until shoulder injuries side-lined Dick Devine and Paul Fieberg, junior quarterback, the Jardinemen held a six-point lead in virtue of Paul Stepan's first quarter touchdown. Despite some great defensive work by Ed Meintzer and Co-Captain Ed Morrissey, the Shamrocks finally managed to tie the score in the early part of the final period. The winning marker came in the closing minutes against a game but outgunned Loyola team.

LOYOLA 14
ST. GEORGE 22

Beautiful weather, a colorful and exuberant car caravan, and a duly appreciative throng set the stage for the last episode in the traditional St. George-Loyola grid rivalry. Defensive heroics by Biersach, Nieman, and Hogan kept the Dragons at bay in the first quarter. After a St. George TD in the second period, Rassas and Stepan brought the score to an 8-8 deadlock. Following a pointless third quarter, the Dragons scored twice to lead 22-8. Stepan's scoring pass to Bill Metzger was "too little, too late".

The Ramblers are stopped after long gain on kickoff.

LOYOLA 6
GORDON TECH 14

The Loyola-Gordon Tech scrap was one of those "should-have-been" affairs that ran the Rambler losing streak to four-in-a-row. Fumbles played an important role in the outcome, either adding to Gordon's scoring chances of stopping LA's incipient goalward drives. The only Rambler score of the afternoon came on a pass from Larry Dunlavey, soph quarterback, to Nick Rassas, LA's top nominee for an All-Catholic berth. Best thing about this game: it marked our last loss of the season.

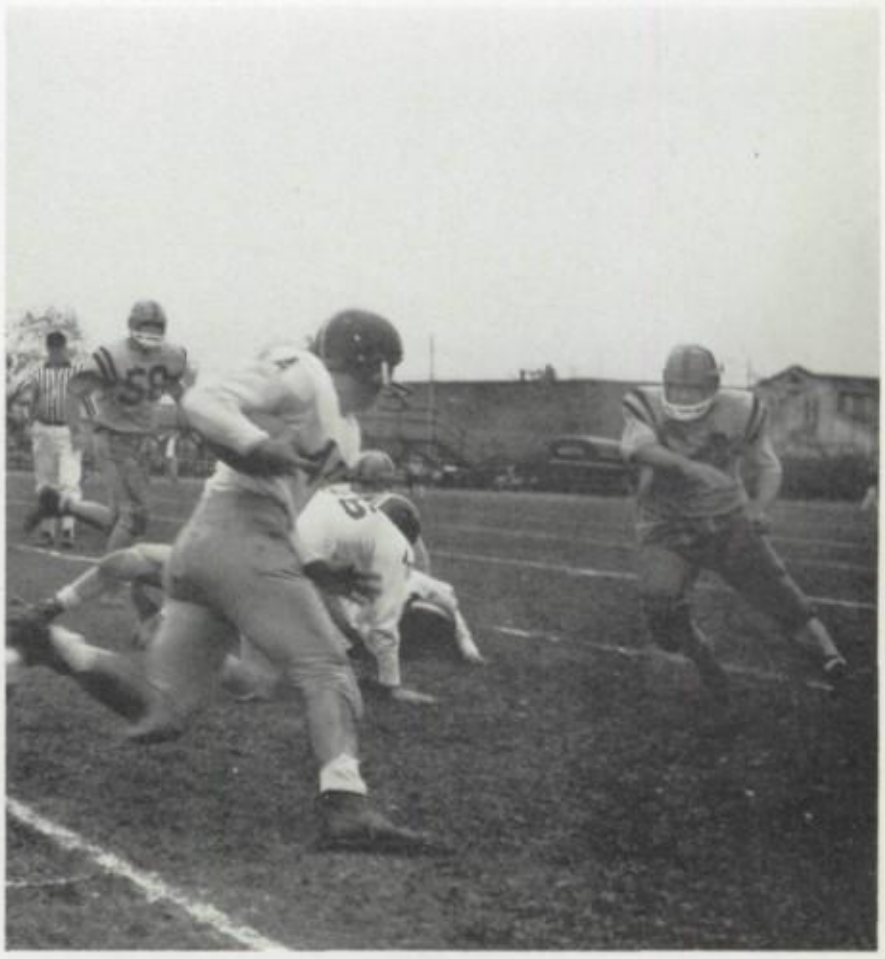
Rassas is dragged to the ground.

LOYOLA 22
ST. MEL 0

To the great joy of their loyal followers the Ramblers returned to their winning ways with a striking victory over the Knights of St. Mel. Paul Stepan got things started with a nine-yard jaunt to pay-dirt, and Nick Rassas kicked the PAT. Hogan's recovery of a fumble led to Dunlavey's 40-yard scoring toss to Rassas, with Stepan adding the two extra points. A Dunlavey-to-Kealy pass gave LA a 22-0 lead, and minimized any second half threats by the determined, but defeated, Knights.

Stepan pushes Ram aside and forges on.

"What do ya' mean? Wrong number!"



Loyola cuts in for more yardage.

Nick Rassas has hands out to complete pass play for long gain.

LOYOLA 20
ST. PHILIP 6

Poor weather could not dampen the Loyola spirits as Nick Rassas led the Ramblers to their final win of the season. Rassas capped a 70-yard first quarter drive by scoring the TD and the extra point. In the second period after a Dunlavey-to-Nieman aerial had netted 50 yards, Paul Stepan bulled over for the tally. A Gael TD made it 13-6 at half-time. Rassas took an end-zone pass from Dunlavey for the final counter and then booted the conversion. A rollicking group of Ramblers left the field with their first winning season in 13 years. (Nice going, men!)

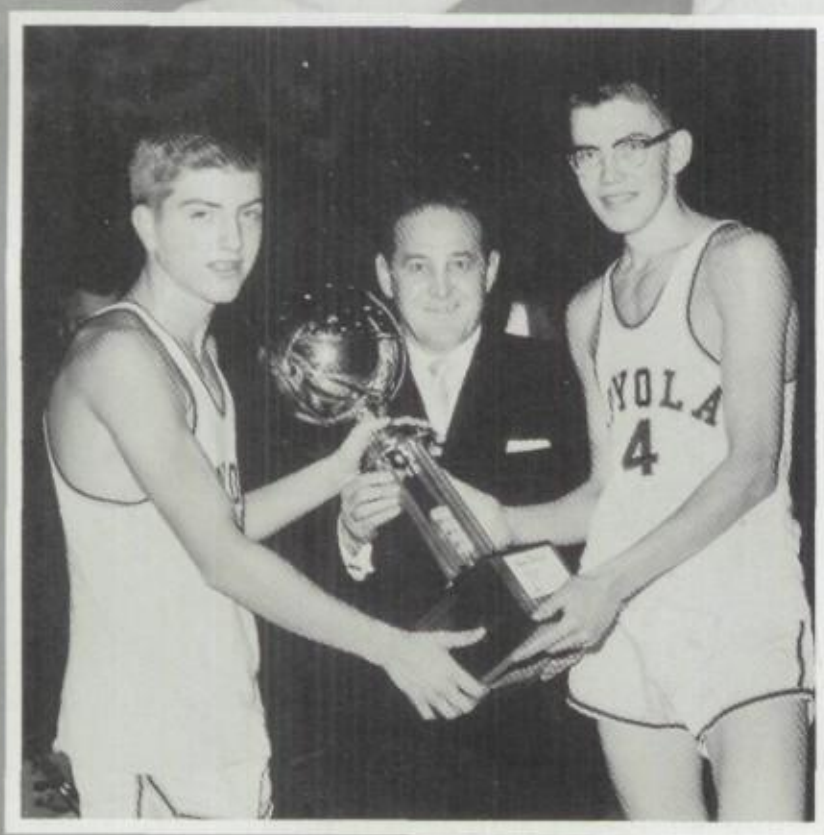
HEAVIES—DE PAUL CHAMPS

The Loyola Heavies have had one of their finest seasons ever, sporting an 18 and 4 record. It was not until March 12, when they lost a heart-breaker to DeLaSalle in the semi-finals that they abandoned hope for the city crown. Earlier in the season, their first loss to Weber 72-70, broke their long winning streak. The DePaul Tournament champs chose Craig Leonard and Don Witty to share captain's honors. With only two seniors on the starting five, the Heavies showed amazing depth and drive which carried them to post-seasonal play-offs at the K. of C. Invitational Tournament in Washington, D.C.



To the victors . . .

LIGHTS—LEAGUE CHAMPS

"Loyola Lights, North Section and Junior Catholic League Champs"—what more need be said? Going undefeated in the regular season, the Lights earned their North Section and City crowns. In the Fenwick Tournament the Lights' five went all the way to the final game before they were inched out by St. Rita's. But on March 17th revenge came to a sparky group of St. Patrick's sons, counting among their number Kelly, Devine, Sullivan, Barrett, Stepan, and Coach Sullivan. The Light's victory that night tasted sweet as they trounced their old foes from Ritas by a 43-51 margin and carried off the Catholic Junior City trophy.

Led by their new coach and former Loyolan Thomas "Buzzy" O'Connor, both the Flys and Bantams came out with winning records. The Flys had an excellent season with 9 wins and 1 loss, suffering defeat only to St. George.

The Bantams, led by Lucas, Corby, and Murray, held a 6 and 5 record. Since both teams are the proving grounds for LA's future glory — the Academy certainly has a victory-laden future to look forward to in the seasons to come.

SENIOR SWIMMING TEAM

Traveling light, Loyola's finmen stopped at Villanova for the National Catholic Interscholastic Meet and returned heavier by a dozen trophies and medals along with a national record in the free style relay and second place in the entire meet. Familiar names—Capt. Tim O'Shaughnessy, Joe Griffin, Bob Rowland, Mike Drucker, Pete Leech, Jim Giambalvo, Gil Krug, and Jim Conley —to mention only a few, echoed over the pool as Loyola's Coach Thomas Lamont urged his men to greater efforts and new records. For the relay record holders, it was no surprise to take a first in the DePaul Relays, where Pete Leech also broke the existing league record.

JUNIOR SWIMMERS

This year again Fr. Beall, S.J., assisted by Mr. Bernard Fletcher, S.J. and Mr. John V. Ryan, has proved that hard work and sacrifice make or break the swimmer. The team record, eleven wins and two losses, certainly shows that the months of long hard practice from October to March were not in vain. The team, sparked by freestylers John Fegan, Paul Dunn, John McCormick, and Mike Clark, who set a new Academy and Catholic League 200 yd. relay record, placed second in the Catholic League Junior City-wide meet.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Bleak, cold damp days: these are the the conditions that a cross-country man has to take in stride. Sparked by juniors Jim Murphy and Cliff Smoluch and by seniors Don Fox and George Seidenbecker, Loyola's team won all of its dual meets except one (the loss was to Lane, whom they later beat twice). They also captured first place in the Turkey Trot and the Sun-Times Invitational. The team won all the important meets but one — City. Ironically, Loyola beat the city champions three times.

TRACK

The 1961 outdoor track season got under way for Loyola on April 8, in a dual meet with St. Rita's at Eckersall Stadium. The Senior team won 79 to 30 and the Juniors followed suit with a 62 to 38 win. This followed on the heels of a good indoor season, which saw Loyola winning in the Daily News Relays, and placing third against strong competition in the Marquette U. High School Relays. This win was looked upon as a good indication for the future. Harry McDonagh, Roger Zemba, and Joe Griffin all were double winners in the opener and Jim Murphy turned in a fine performance in the 880.

TENNIS

Under the guidance of the perennial master, Fr. Walter Crane, S.J., and its newly acquired coach, Mr. Bernard Fletcher, S.J., the tennis team is once again of championship status. Practicing hard at their lakeside courts, the net-men learn the finer points of the game along with all-important fundamentals and quick-witted stratagems. This drilling has paid off for Loyola in twelve straight Catholic City Championships.

GOLF

Loyola's golf team has come into its own. Under the tutelege of two Jesuit pros, Br. Herman Elsaesser and Fr. George Schumacher, the team has stopped struggling to get to the top—It's there! Jack Martin, Nick Nigvelli, and Hugo Scala along with a host of aspiring under-par men make their way daily to Glencoe Golf Course to iron out hooks and slices so that only 250 yard drives or better will soar off the tees.

BASEBALL

Experience and eagerness are the two words that sum up this year's Rambler baseball team. Surveying the diamond, Mr. Kotowski, S.J. brims with optimism. Twelve returning lettermen, Catholic League batting champ Don Witty, and the fourth year on the Eden's campus that has shored up an excellent group of seniors and juniors on the starting roster are reasons enough to make a coach optimistic, and his optimism justified.
